Immigration Or Emigration

A new immigration law, President Johnson said early in December, is one of his top priority programs. He emphasized this comment in his State of the Union message and in a special message when he said that the basis for immigration should not be where a man came from but what he can do.

The President proposes to persuade Congress to do what other Presidents have tried in vain to do, substantially change the McCarran-Walter Immigration and Nationality Act that was passed in 1952 over President Truman's veto.

The 1952 act favors immigration of nationals from Western Hemisphere nations and from northern and western Europe. This act makes it relatively difficult for eastern and southern Europeans and for Africans and Asians to emigrate to the United States.

THE 88TH CONGRESS resisted an attempt by the Administration to eliminate the national origins quota system and grant the President the power to reallocate unused immigration quotas. The attitude of the 88th Congress indicates that the President's plan will meet strong opposition in the present Congress and that his success in making changes in the immigration law will depend on his readiness to compromise.

Despite the appearance of Congressional support for a measure that would retain, but update, country-by-country quotas, while providing for reallocation of unused quotas, compromise looks extraordinarily difficult. This is the outlook because the President insists on abolition of the national origins system. Perhaps he thinks the present Congress acquired last Nov. 3 enough liberals to enable him to win without resort to compromise.

This development would not surprise us, but we could not cheer it. It would be consistent with efforts to wipe out differences identified by race, color, and national origin. But it would, we think, set back the development of the homogeneity essential to national strength by encouraging hetereogeneity.

THE PRESIDENT'S emphasis on what a man can do rather than on where he comes from as the basis of immigration directs attention to the possible effect of immigration on American unemployment.

Encouragement of immigrants to take jobs while millions of Americans are unemployed does not make sense unless the unemployed Americans cannot be trained in needed skills.

Perhaps, however, the United States should not recognize an immigration problem. West Germany, which has a shortage of 750,000 workers, recently expressed interest in an immigration of Americans to overcome this shortage. Perhaps the Administration should be encouraging jobless Americans to look on West Germany as the land of opportunity rather than inviting more unemployment and increased hetereogeneity of the population by opening the doors wider to immigrants.

But he indicated Japan would not take part militarily in the Viet Nam conflict because of constitutional limitations.

"Neutrality is not the answer when you are dealing with the forces of violence," Sato said in a news conference that followed his final speaking appearance during his U. S. visit.

Sato started his return trip home at 7:04 p.m. EST, with Honolulu the first stop after a 5 hour, 30 minute flight.

Sato said he definitely did not feel a majority supported the French proposal for neutralizing the Asian trouble spot.

The Japanese leader repeated his belief the U. S. government must exercise patience until some feasible basis for solution can be found. This definintely means no complete withdrawal of U. S. forces from Viet Nam at this time, he said.

Johnson Asks Authority To Push Peace Efforts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, seeing a threat to U.S. security in the spread of nuclear weapons, asked Congress Friday for authority to intensify the nation's efforts toward disarmament.

He requested a four-year extension of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and authority to spend $55 million in that period "to intensify our efforts in this critical area." The agency's present two-year authority expires next June 30.

"This effort, as much as our continuing preparedness efforts militarily, is essential to our security, for a continued increase and spread of modern weapons can actually decrease our security," Johnson said in a letter to Speaker John W. McCormack and Senate President Pro Tempore Carl Hayden of Arizona.

"As a nation vigilant to danger, we must also be vigilant for opportunities for improving the hopes for peace," he said.

The President's request for a four-year extension was received favorably on Capitol Hill.

"I think the President, the government and the people want an agency to continue to study means by which dependable, honest attempts at multilateral arms control might ultimately be achieved," said Senate Republican Whip Thomas H. Kuchel, Calif.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., ranking Republican on the Armed Services Committee, said constant military strength must be combined with "an examination of the opportunities for mutual disarmament."

Congress gave the agency $9 million for the current year. The administration had asked $15 million.

The proposed four-year extension was viewed as an attempt to permit long-range planning for disarmament research and to commit Congress to its support.

Montalto Receives Commendation

Ship's Serviceman First Class Jean J. Montalto, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Concetto Montalto, 199 Jackson St., has been awarded the Navy Unit Commendation Ribbon and Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation, a unit of the Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

Members of the crew received their awards for their part in operations conducted off the coast of Viet Nam during the Gulf of Tonkin incident in August of last year.

Comment on Early:

"Mr. Early is about 35, a hardy perennial among political candidates, having run at various times for State Senator, School Committee and City Council — always unsuccessfully. He is reported to have been active for Dever — and I believe is a member of the Democratic City Committee of Worcester. He attended Holy Cross College and the Staley School of the Spoken Word - I do not know when or for what periods of time. He is secretary of local 3274 United Steel Workers of America C.I.O. and is, I understand, fairly prominent in local labor circles.

'NO DITCH DIGGERS'

Judge Tomasello Blasts Democrats For Bias Against Italo-Americans

To the Editor of The Herald:

The news that Anthony Julian, an able and highly respected attorney, is to become the United States Attorney for Massachusetts is most heartening to the Italo-Americans of this State, especially in view of the lean years that they have experienced at the hands of biased State Democratic Party leaders who during the past 16 years have seen fit to appoint only one Italo-American (since offset by the loss of one) out of an approximate 75 to the Judiciary; also in view of the fact that of several thousand appointments to local, county, and state positions only a handful of Italo-Americans have been considered and most of these through accident rather than desire.

The Republican Party leaders in promoting the cause of Mr. Julian have shown broad vision.

Mr. Mullins of your newspaper has frequently warned the Democratic leaders of the dangers of failing to recognize this minority group which has the balance of power.

It is doubtful that this Party can soon recover from its recent defeat, since these same short-sighted leaders who expect to control the affairs of the Party in the future have forgotten that the Italo-Americans can no longer be classified as ditch diggers, but that they are educated and intelligent persons whose sons have shed blood in unusually great quantities on the battlefield of Korea and elsewhere for the greater glory of God and of this great nation.

Forty-one years of public service have left Mrs. Eva Whiting White a "confirmed optimist."

"I trust life as it is," says the

"PEOPLE have a fundamental common sense," says Eva Whiting White, who resigned as head of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union last week after 41 years of public service.

woman who last week resigned as head of Boston's famous Women's Educational and Industrial Union on Boylston st.

Her career, which started in a South End settlement house and spans two world wars, parallels the rise of social legislation in this country and she has watched her field develop into a major career area for young women.

"When I started out I can remember spending 60 percent of my time just trying to get shoes for children. We've come a long, long way. In a degree we have met the basic problems of need. The great need now rests in the medical field. The cost of medical service for people who have very little money needs to be solved."

Her resignation as head of the union, though she will continue to serve on the board and as a volunteer, climaxes a lifetime of service to others started when she was the first and only student at the Simmons School of Social Work.

Conference Sunday P.M.

"I had my attention called to the school, but when I applied for admission I was told that no one had signed up for the course."

"You don't have any right to list a course unless you give it," she told the college authorities with the same direct approach which has helped her solve complicated problems since then.

They gave the course and she took it, to graduate as a class of one after two years of study.

When she started in at the settlements her friends said, "How can you stand it?"

Her answer was, "I can stand it because I'm trying to do something about it."

Now, nearly half a century later she finds her faith in people as serene as it always was.

"If you live close to life and to people you feel in the long term there's a fundamental common sense and a sense of justice that comes through. People may swerve sometimes from pressure but basically you find they come through."

And the people she's dealt with politically and in her agency work have justified her faith.

"If you're doing the job for the good of the people, you find you're treated fairly and squarely."

When you chronicle Mrs. White's career by services performed it reads like a healthy paragraph out of Who's Who. It includes such jobs as head worker at Elizabeth Peabody House, 1909-1944; with the vocational department of the Massachusetts Board of Education, 1910-13; professor of social economy, Simmons College; vice chairman of United States Commission on Living Conditions, Department of Labor; member of the Board of Public Welfare, Boston; director of the Division of Americanization and Immigration, Board of Education of Massachusetts; member of the visiting commission, Harvard Department of Sociology; director of the War Camp Community Service, 1917; trustee of the Charlesbank Homes and a member of the Boston Housing Authority, the American Association of Social Workers; the National Conference of Social Work and the National Federation of Settlements.

Today's "calcium spotlight" on young people hasn't helped them much, thinks Mrs. White. "I have great faith in the present generation. They are meeting their responsibilities magnificently. It's been a period of great confusion for them. In my teens, back when we thought war was over for good, there was a stable family life, a unit which kept us together. Today there are so many more tensions and disturbances."

Now that she's starting a private life of her own, Mrs. White, who has been a widow for many years, looks forward to isolated times of leisure when she can catch up on the books she's wanted to read but had to bypass for the technical and informative studies that line the bookshelves in her office. She's going to travel and she's going to concerts and plays.

Lawrence Has Most Jobless of 37 Critical Areas

Thirty-seven areas throughout the country—with Lawrence leading the list—still have a serious unemployment problem, with at least 6 percent of the labor force out of work, Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin reported yesterday.

He said that in addition to Lawrence, where one worker in 10 is out of a job, Providence is listed as an unemployment area. Most of the communities are either textile or coal mining areas.

City officials in Lawrence said the Secretary's one-in-10 figure is "very conservative." They estimated that the figure is "more like one in three, in the hard-hit city.

Durkin's announcement from Washington said that although 37 areas continue to have "severe unemployment," the nation's manpower supply is in "better balance" than it was a year ago.

At the same time it was revealed that Hartford, Conn., is among five cities where a labor shortage threatens to impede defense work.

Miss O'Connor,

I phoned home today and my mother is quite sick- she went on foot to the doctor, and he ordered her home in a taxi, and said she has to be in bed at least one week. I called him and he said that her pulse is awfully fast and her heart is skipping. He gave her digitalis, and other stuff, as her condition is something like last year- plus B-12 shots. I have to take care of her for at least this week as I know she won't do what he told her, to any appreciable extent, but if I am home she does. He said he will not be responsible for her condition if she doesn't do that, and since she never had heart trouble, I really don't know how serious it is. He said he will check her after the one week rest; to see if the heart improves.

Robitscher hearing scheduled at 9.30 was held at 10.30. Very stormy day was perhaps the reason. The hearing officer was Mr. Kennewan who was Civil but strict.

The difficult part of the hearing came when it was revealed that Mr. R. had "forgotten" to mention his membership in the one organization to which he belonged that had a red tinge. -- a Pan Slavonic group which advocated a Russian sphere of influence for countries such as Czechoslovakia and Jugoslavia.

E BOSTON HERALD, THUR

62 Groups To Be Listed As Subversive

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) —Atty. Gen. Brownell announced today he plans to add 62 organizations to the list of those the Justice Department designates subversive.

He also said he was redesignating 192 organizations which have been on the list.

The attorney general told a news conference that notices have gone out to the 62 groups proposed for addition, and that they will be granted hearings prior to their formal listing, if they request it.

USED IN CHECKS

The subversive list, he announced, is to be used as one of the checks on federal employes under the Eisenhower administration's new loyalty-security program for government workers.

By adopting the old list used by the Democratic administration in the Truman loyalty check program, and adding 62 others, Brownell will have a list of 254 groups, in which membership by a government worker will be made the subject of further inquiry relating to his fitness for federal employment.

Brownell said in answer to a question "the extent of association or support" would be considered in the checkup.

Following is the list of the 62 organizations as announced by the Justice Department (no addresses given):

American Committee for Settlement of Jews in Biro-Bidjan; American Committee to Survey Labor Conditions in Europe; American Lithuanian Workers' Association; American Peace Crusade; American Poles for Peace; American Polish League; American Women for Peace; Association of Lithuanian Workers; Baltimore Forum; Bridges-Robertson-Schmidt Defense Committee; Bulgarian-American People's League; California Emergency Defense Committee; China Welfare Appeal, Inc.; Chopin Cultural Center; Citizens Emergency Defense Committee; Committee for Constitutional and Political Freedom; Committee for the Defense of the Pittsburgh Six.

Committee for Freedom of the Press; Committee for Negro in the Arts; Committee for Peace and Brotherhood Festival in Philadelphia; Committee for the Protection of the Bill of Rights; Committee to Uphold the Bill of Rights; Committee for World Youth Friendship and Cultural Exchange; Connecticut Committee to Aid Victims of the Smith Act; Coordination Committee of Jewish Landsmanshaften and Fraternal Organizations; Council of Greek Americans; Council for Jobs, Relief and Housing; Daniels Defense Committee; Committee to Defend Marie Richardson; Families of the Baltimore Smith Act Victims; Families of the Smith Act Victims; Frederick Douglas Educational Center.

Freedom Stage, Inc. Harlem Trade Union Council; Jewish Cultural Society; joint council of Progressive Italian Americans, Inc.; Labor council for Negro Rights; Maritime Labor Committee to defend Al Lannon; Massachusetts Minute Women for Peace; Maurice Braverman Defense Committee; National Association of Mexican Americans; National Labor Conference for Peace; National Negro Labor Council; North Philadelphia Forum; Palo Alto Peace Club; Peace Information Center; People's Drama, Inc.

Philadelphia Labor Committee for Negro Rights; Political Prisoners Welfare Committee; Provisional Committee of Citizens for Peace. Southwest Area; Puertorriquenas Unidos (Puerto Ricans United); Quad city Peace Committee; Russian American Society; Santa Barbara Peace Forum; Slavic Council of Southern California; Tri-State Negro Trade Union Council; Union of New York Veterans; Voice of Freedom Committee; Washington Committee to Defend The Bill Of Rights; Washington Pension Union; Yugoslav American Cooperative Home, Inc.; Yugoslav Seamen's Club.

Minute Women Sought Signatures For Red Petition

The Massachusetts Minute Women For Peace is the only organization from this region named in Atty. Gen. Brownell's new list of subversive groups.

It failed in its only major propaganda attempt here in 1950, when wide publicity about its backing nullified its work.

In common with the Massachusetts Action Committee for Peace the Minute Women planned a three-day "Peace Weekend" to induce Bostonians to sign the Communist inspired Stockholm Petition. Mrs. Helen Johnson of Roxbury was chairman of the Minute Women.

The program got off to a bad start when The Herald-Traveler exposed its coincidence with the Communist line. And the Boston Park Commission refused the organization the use of Franklin Park for a demonstration in a letter to the Rev. Robert Muir of Roxbury, Episcopal clergyman who headed the MACP.

Many organizations joined in appeals that the twin groups be disregarded by the public. They faded quickly from public view.

AN ACT MAKING CERTAIN CHANGES IN THE LAW RELATIVE TO THE ADOPTION OF CHILDREN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 210 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 3, as most recently amended by chapter 352 of the acts of 1952, and inserting in place thereof the following section: — Section 3. The consent of the persons named in section two, other than the child or her husband, if any, shall not be required if the person to be adopted is of full age, nor shall the consent of any such person other than the child be required if such person is adjudged by the court hearing the petition to be hopelessly insane, or is imprisoned in any penal institution in this commonwealth under sentence for a term of which more than three years remain unexpired at the date of the petition; or if he has wilfully deserted or neglected to provide proper care and maintenance for such child for one year last preceding the date of the petition, and the foregoing provision shall be applicable to the parent or parents of the child and their consent shall not be required notwithstanding the absence of a court decree ordering said parent or parents to pay for the support of said child, and notwithstanding a court decree awarding custody of said child to another; or if he has suffered such child to be supported for more than one year continuously prior to the petition by an incorporated charitable institution or by a town or by the commonwealth; or if he has been sentenced to imprisonment for drunkenness upon a third conviction within one year and neglects to provide proper care and maintenance for such child; or if such person has been convicted of being a common night walker or a lewd, wanton and lascivious person, and neglects to provide proper care and maintenance for such child. A giving up in writing of a child, for the purpose of adoption, to an incorporated charitable institution or the department of public welfare shall operate as a consent to any adoption subsequently approved by such institution or said department. Notice of the petition shall be given to the department of public welfare, if the child is supported by a town or by the commonwealth, and if the child is supported by a town, notice shall also be given to the board of public welfare thereof, and in Boston said notice shall be given both to the overseers of the public welfare in the city of Boston and to the institutions department.

Nazareth Superintendent Is Daughter Of Lawrence Couple

Lawrencians will have a more than cursory interest in Nazareth, the new home and school for dependent children now under construction in Jamaica Plain under the sponsorship of Archbishop Richard J. Cushing. The superintendent of the new home is Sister Josephine of the Daughters of Charity, daughter of Mrs. Rose O'Connell, 96 Auburn street. Her father, the late David O'Connell, was a former Tribune reporter. He was attached to the Internal Revenue office here and later in Boston before his death 12 years ago.

Sister Josephine has been in religion for the past 23 years. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan where she was awarded a Master's degree in Social Work.

The Daughters of Charity, a nursing and teaching order distinguished by their large white bonnet, also staff St. John's hospital, Lowell.

A Singular "Deal"

Disclosure that "a deal" was quietly made during the final days of the recent session of Congress, barring revision of the McCarran Immigration Law until 1957, will come as a shock to the country. That this "arrangement" was made unbeknownst to the President does not improve matters.

President Eisenhower has made repeated pledges that this legislative monstrosity would be corrected. His views have won support of all religious groups in the nation and an impressive body of non-partisan citizenry.

What has happened? According to revelations in the New York Times, the champions of the McCarran Act got together with men "on the leadership level" in the Senate, and bought off revision of the McCarran Act in return for support by Senator McCarran of the President's emergency act for admission of 114,000 refugees. The plan of those instituting this legislative blockade is to table in committee all bills filed for revision of the Immigration Act!

One item has been forgotten by these strategists. It is the power of the ballot in an election year.

EACH IN HIS OWN TONGUE

A fire-mist and a planet
A crystal and a cell,
A jelly-fish and a saurin,
And caves where the cave-men dwell;
Then a sense of law and beauty,
And a face turned from the clod—
Some call it Evolution,
And others call it God.

A haze on the horizon,
The infinite, tender sky,
The ripe, rich tint of the cornfields,
And the wild geese sailing high,
And all over upland and lowland
The glow of the goldenrod—
Some of us call it Autumn,
And others call it God.

Like tides on a crescent sea-beach
When the moon is new and thin,
Into our hearts high yearnings
Come welling surging in—
Come from the mystic ocean,
Whose rim no foot has trod—
Some of us call it Longing,
And others call it God.

A picket frozen on duty,
A mother starved for her brood,
Socrates drinking the hemlock,
And Jesus on the rood;
And thousands who, humble and nameless,
The straight, hard pathway trod—
Some call it Consecration,
And others call it God.

WATKINS REJECTS ALIEN ACT CHANGE

He Holds to Original Belief After a 3-Month Survey of Operation Abroad

By CLAYTON KNOWLES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—Senator Arthur V. Watkins said today that a three-month look at the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act of 1952 from a vantage point broad did not indicate a need for any early, major revision.

The Utah Republican, chairman of a Joint Congressional Committee studying operation of the act, said that the period he spent checking in Europe and the Near East failed to change his original belief that no amendments really were necessary for the next three years.

In a letter to President Eisenhower on Aug. 18, Senator Watkins wrote that the Refugee Act of 1953, providing for the admission above quota of 214,000 aliens, "takes care of population pressure areas as far as we probably can go in the next three years."

Mr. Watkins said he still stood by his statement, made in that letter, that it would be "futile to attempt to do anything more than make minor revisions which may be necessary prior to expiration of the emergency (Refugee) act in 1956.

Calls a Revision Unwise

In fact, Mr. Watkins said he now felt it would be "very unwise" to seek even minor amendment to the basic immigration law at the next session. He said any attempt to do so would open the whole act to amendment without the necessary study and jeopardize important elements of the Eisenhower program that will be before Congress then.

Apart from the merits of any proposal, the Senator said that a canvass he had made of [illegible] of Congress "clearly a majority would oppose any change in the act until the need for change had been established from actual operation of the act."

In his Aug. 18 letter to General Eisenhower, the Senator referring to the fact the act was voted over the veto of President Truman in 1952, wrote:

"Further action on immigration will be impossible during the next four years unless there is almost a complete turnover of members of the Congress in next year's Congressional election."

The Senator voted for the McCarran-Walter Act both on original passage and on overriding the veto, but he insisted that his present stand against hasty amendment did "not result from any deal to block amendment."

He insisted he knew of no such deal and that the emergency refugee act was passed without any such consideration. He steered this act through to passage at the last session over bitter Senate opposition.

There are no present plans for hearings looking toward McCarran-Walter Act revision, Senator Watkins said. He asserted, however, that he would put the matter before the joint committee after the session starts.

Senator Watkins said he knew of no Administration plan to ask for McCarran-Walter Act revision, which President Eisenhower had urged during the 1952 campaign and in his State of the Union Message. Midway in the last session, the President urged merely that that study be given to what was said to be unfairness in the act.

The Senator said he did not discuss any change in the act with the President when he reported to the White House on his trip abroad.

"Keep, ancient lands, your storied pomp!" cries she
With silent lips. "Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, the tempest-tost, to me!
I lift my lamp beside the golden door."
